Welcome to NEVADA

You might have heard about us — we're that state with all the mountain ranges? The one with the largest ichthyosaur fossils? And that city everyone likes to visit?

Yes, Nevada is home to the amazing, ever-changing Las Vegas Strip, but the state has a few surprises.

Several hundred mountain ranges cross its landscape, such as the Rubies. There, recreational opportunities abound in places like Lamoille Canyon and Angel Lake. Nevada also is home to the largest known fossil remains of ichthyosaurs, ancient marine mammals that disappeared from Earth in the Cretaceous period. See those fossils at Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park near Gabbs.

I encourage you to pay special attention to our state parks — they showcase the recreational opportunities, history, natural resources and cultural highlights found in our great state. Last year, the state added two parks to its system — Walker River State Recreation Area and Ice Age Fossils State Park. I hope you have a chance to visit.

Again, welcome to Nevada and safe travels!

Erik Burke

Erik creates place-specific murals throughout the world. His latest work can be seen in Bosnia, South Korea, Italy, and closer to home in Reno. His work has been published in the book "Street Art; The Best Urban Art from Around the World," "Outdoor Gallery," The Huffington Post, Village Voice, and the NYTimes. You can view more of his work at his website erikburke.com.

Learn more about Reno's up-and-coming MidTown District at renomidtowndistrict.com

Why do you think Reno is experiencing a resurgence of public art?

Reno has always had strong public art if you look at it in the sense of hand-painted signs and neon. However the new wave of public art, such as murals, is just a sign of the times in cities throughout the world, and the ripple effect is now really catching the attention of developers, business owners, and most importantly, the public.

What makes Reno—and Nevada in general—attractive to artists?

In the same way that a white gallery is ideal for an artist, I see our open and expansive landscape as an invitation to those that dream big and create bigger. Distractions are low while possibilities are high.

What most inspires you artistically in Nevada?

Being a painter, I get caught up with light and color all the time. I love looking at the changing palette around me and trying to decode the ingredients. To an outsider our landscape might appear very sun-bleached or even muted, but there are so many rich nuances to it! The ground itself could literally be used as pigment.

Why murals over smaller forms of art?

Because small art cramps my style, ha! To be honest, working larger just feels right. Something there clicks. In a sense, each mural is really hundreds of smaller works assembled into a larger composition.

Do you have an "insider tip" on where to see the best outdoor art in Reno?

Hmm... lots of places, but you could start by heading north on South Virginia Street, starting at Mt. Rose Street and going all the way into downtown. I'm helping organize a Mural Expo in downtown as we speak and soon there will be murals by over two dozen artists sprinkled throughout.

Steve Safford

There are very few areas that are as unspoiled as northeastern Nevada, and for Steve Safford, it's the crown jewel of the state. As the owner of Ruby Mountain Brewing Company, Safford jokes that they've mastered "bales, beef and beer," out at Angel Creek Ranch, just south of Wells, Nevada. Here, Safford raises angus beef cattle and specialty hay for horses, and is proud to brew one of Nevada's best beers. In one of the ranch's outbuildings visitors will find no formal tasting room or restaurant, but a great place to sit down and have a taste of Ruby Mountain Amber

Ale, right out of the tap. With a perfect view of the Rubies, time spent here brings a whole new meaning to "drinking it all in."

Steve-Safford](http://TravelNevada.com/Steve-Safford)

How did you end up starting one of Nevada's first microbreweries?

I moved to Europe when I was young, and learned to appreciate quality beer over there. When I moved back to the states at 19, a friend of mine showed up with a 6-pack of homebrew one day and it was a eureka moment. From there we headed to a brewing supply store started brewing beer the next week. That was over 40 years ago.

What beers do you brew and why was it important for you to have a beer that represented Nevada?

The Bristlecone Brown Porter, Ruby Mountain Amber Ale, and Buckaroo Brew Pale Ale. We were one of the original Nevada breweries, and we have a true Nevada beer, so we named them after local landmarks. In the first year we went to the Great American Beer fest, AND our amber ale won the silver medal in the biggest category at the biggest beer-judging event the world. It gives us a lot of satisfaction to see someone enjoy something you've worked hard to produce.

Why else is the beer at Ruby Mountain Brewing Co. unlike anything else?

It's a Nevada beer that's made from Nevada. It's hard to get any purer, cleaner water than what's coming off the Rubies, which is what our well is filled with. It's good for making beer, with no treatment required. Coming here is unique. There aren't any other breweries that I know of that are on working ranches, that have the view out the brewery window that this place does, making "ranch-brewed beer." We're proud that it says that right on the label.

What's your philosophy in making great beer?

My philosophy is if it's worth doing, it's worth doing right. Whether that's ranching, or cooking, or brewing beer, or life in general. It doesn't take that much more effort to get it done right.

GERLACH

Gateway to the magical Black Rock Desert, come-as-you-are Gerlach welcomes miners, hunters, Burners and more. Stop at the de facto capital, Bruno's Country Club, for famed home cooking, stiff libations, local intel, and your last gas up before hitting the backcountry.

PLANET X POTTERY

Just past Gerlach beneath the Granite Mountains lies a working pottery and art studio from another dimension, where since 1974 a husband-and-wife team has offered exquisite ceramics and paintings in sprawling ranch home galleries, inspired by the stunning natural surroundings.

MEET THE LOCALS

These waters aren't special just to people. The lake, a remnant of massive ancient Lake Lahontan, is one of the last natural habitats of Nevada's state fish, the salmon-sized Lahontan cutthroat trout — and the only home to the ultra-rare cui-ui (QUEE-wee) sucker fish.

BLACK ROCK DESERT

For a week, it's home to Black Rock City. The rest of the year, it's a million-acre wilderness area marked by hot springs, pioneer trails, and wide-open, uninhibited freedom. Inspired yet?

EMIGRANT TRAILS NATIONAL CONSERVATION AREA

Whether you're interested in history, hiking, or simply sitting quietly and pondering the vast universe, you'll find what you're looking for here.

You've been involved in Reno's art scene for many years. How has the city's art scene evolved?

Because of the casinos, Reno has been strong in music and dance for some time. Now we're seeing a big push in the visual arts.

Why did you make the transition from covering the Reno arts community for the local newspaper to becoming a part of it?

The fact that I love the arts so much, I can't help but want to be a part of its future.

Art Spot Reno's mission is to support local businesses and organizations that support the arts. Why is it important to support local artists?

Local artists are always on the forefront of urban renewal. The MidTown District is a great example of that. A city with a strong arts and culture scene also draws people and businesses.

Reno is about 107 miles (172 km) from the Black Rock Desert, where the annual Burning Man festival takes place. You're a longtime "Burner," and even volunteer at the event. What keeps you going back?

Imagine this wide-open landscape and there's these 40-foot, 50-foot installations. You get to see a level of imagination and creativity out there that you don't see anywhere else. People are thirsty for that creativity in their lives. Burning Man allows people to be creative and to be playful.

Where in Reno do you go for artistic inspiration?

A good coffee shop like this that has art on the walls is a place I'm going to be artistically inspired. (Editor's note: This interview was conducted at Homage Bakery, a locally owned boutique bakery and coffeehouse on Ralston Street in Reno.)

A PERFECT DAY AT Lake Tahoe

Surrounded by forested mountains heavy with snow in the winter, Lake Tahoe draws visitors for skiing, snowshoeing and other sports. Summer brings hikers, mountain bikers, campers and those who like all types of aquatic sports, from swimming to stand-up paddle boarding.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES

Beach bumming. Beautiful beaches on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe include Sand Harbor State Park in Incline Village and Nevada Beach in Zephyr Cove. Concessionaires at both rent kayaks, paddle boards and other watercraft.

Golf. Experts say golf balls fly farther at altitude. Well, Lake Tahoe sits at 6,220 feet (1,896 meters) above sea level. Golf like a pro at Edgewood Tahoe in Stateline, or at the Championship and Mountain Golf courses in Incline Village.

Hiking. The mountains around Lake Tahoe offer a multitude of trails. The Mount Rose Summit Trail leads visitors up the area's tallest peak, Mount Rose, at 10,776 feet (3,285 meters). There's also the Tahoe Rim Trail, a 165-mile (266-km) trail in the mountains around Lake Tahoe. For a relaxing 2.3-mile (4-km) hike, consider the Tahoe Meadows Interpretive Loop Trail.

Mountain biking. Many Lake Tahoe trails allow mountain bikers and horseback riders, along with hikers. One trail that is particularly tailored to mountain bikers, however, is the Flume Trail, a 14-mile (23-km) high-altitude trail — some of it single track — on the west side of Lake Tahoe. Be prepared for epic views of the lake from 7,000 to 8,000 feet (2,134 to 2,438 meters) above sea level.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

Skiing and snowboarding. Lake Tahoe is ringed with ski resorts, three of which are on the Nevada side: Mt. Rose-Ski Tahoe, Diamond Peak, and Heavenly, which straddles the border between Nevada and California. Most resorts open — at least partially — by Thanksgiving weekend, and close in late April.

Snowshoeing and cross-country skiing. Spooner Lake & Backcountry, a part of Lake Tahoe Nevada State Park, has 50 miles (80.5 km) of trails and primitive roads. Two very rustic cabins are available here: the Spooner Lake Cabin, which sleeps four; and the Wildcat Cabin, which sleeps two. Tahoe Meadows, at the summit of Mount Rose Highway (Nevada state Route 431) and part of the Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest, is another spot popular with snowshoers and cross-country skiers.

Other winter fun. Snowmobiling is offered, weather permitting, out of Zephyr Cove Lodge in Zephyr Cove, near Stateline. Borges Sleigh and Carriage Rides operates in two locations: on the corner of U.S. 50 and Lake Parkway east in South Lake Tahoe; and at Sand Harbor State Park in Incline Village.

Lake Tahoe has two visitors bureaus: North Lake Tahoe, 888-434-1262 or GoTahoeNorth.com; and Tahoe South, 775-588-4591 or TahoeSouth.com.

Lake Tahoe sits in the Sierra Nevada range, about 40 miles (65 km) southwest of Reno, a massive freshwater lake 22 miles long and 12 miles wide, with 72 miles of shoreline (35 x 19 km, with 116 km of shoreline). Spanning the border between Nevada and California, Lake Tahoe is notable for its depth and water clarity: it is 1,645 feet (501 meters) deep; a person can see almost 70 feet down into the lake.

AREA 51

Area 51, also known as Dreamland, Groom Lake and other pseudonyms, is a United States military test site long associated with stories of aliens and UFOs. It also didn't exist. That is, until 2013, when the CIA released classified documents confirming the existence of a test site (but not of aliens.)

A word of warning: Area 51 is within the Nevada Test and Training Range. This is NOT open to the public and is heavily guarded — you must obey all posted signs.

Alien autopsies? Research on recovered UFOs? Could that be happening on the Area 51 military base? It's probably just crazy talk, but.... why do these rumors persist? Drive the Extraterrestrial Highway (Nevada state Route 375), and satisfy your curiosity. The truth is out there. #ETHighway

E-T-FRESH JERKY

This roadside stop sells preserved meat in such flavors as Teriyaki Time Travel and Hell Hole Hot. There are also flavored pistachio nuts, drinks and alien souvenirs, because those are the things you need when embarking on a quest for the truth. Don't forget to snap a photo next to the store's cool alien murals.

ALIEN RESEARCH CENTER

When you see a giant silver alien next to a Quonset hut, you'll know you're there. The Alien Research Center gift shop is where you'll find UFO literature, Area 51 T-shirts and "alien agave nectar." They have limited hours, but even if they are closed it's worth the photo op!

E.T. HIGHWAY SIGN

Instagram yourself next to the ET Highway sign. In 1996, Nevada state Route 375 was renamed the Extraterrestrial Highway in conjunction with the 1996 movie "Independence Day." The movie, about an alien invasion of Earth, has humans making their final stand at Area 51.

#ETHighway | #NVRoadTrip

Hitchhiker's guide to the aliens #ETHighway

When the alien invasion comes, there is only one place we think of. Area 51. For decades, Area 51 factored into stories of flying saucers and alien autopsies. But the United States government remained mum on the subject. Area 51 didn't officially exist until 2013, when the CIA released documents confirming its presence. But what should have been a bombshell was somewhat of a dud: the base was used to test spy planes, not study extraterrestrial life. Or was it?

Hollywood films have more to say about what may be going on at Area 51. From that repository of knowledge, here are a few tips about Area 51 and alien life.

Word of caution: Area 51 is an official U.S. Military Base, and any trespassers will be arrested, so we advise against venturing too close.

Starring Simon Pegg and Seth Rogen.

Sci-fi nerds travel the ET Highway to see the "ALIEN DROPBOX," a roadside mailbox in rural Nevada where aliens receive mail. Along the way, our heroes

S'SOCORRO'S BURGER HUT

Rated a five-star burger joint on Yelp, patrons are not afraid to make bold statements like, "Best burger I've ever had." This small outpost along the side of U.S. 95 is in Mina, population 155. True to its moniker, it serves burgers, and it's a hut. Order at the window — burgers, hot dogs, french fries and ice cream — and seat yourself at one of the picnic tables (some are covered) to enjoy classic American fare.

HAWTHORNE ORDNANCE MUSEUM

The community of Hawthorne has a long military history, some of which is detailed in this small museum, which is free to tour. Hawthorne is also home to the Hawthorne Army Depot, which stores conventional munitions (look for rows of bunkers from the highway); the depot also demilitarizes and disposes of obsolete munitions.

The Free Range Art Highway route begins in Las Vegas and ends in Tonopah, but you could easily extend your trip north on U.S. 95 to the Reno-Tahoe area. Along the way, here are a few things to check out.

WALKER LAKE

Just north of Hawthorne on the east side of U.S. 95, Walker Lake is the most prominent geographical feature in the region. Twelve miles long and 5 miles (8 km) wide, Walker Lake draws visitors for wildlife viewing and camping. It can be accessed through Sportsman's Beach, managed by the federal Bureau of Land Management.

If you take Alt U.S. 95 toward Silver Springs and Fernley (as opposed to U.S. 95 to Fallon), you'll come to the town of Yerington, known for its onion crops and as the home of the annual Night in the Country music festival. The Jeanne Dini Cultural Center, set in a historical schoolhouse, has two galleries and the YTA Café, open Tuesday through Friday for breakfast and lunch.

FORT CHURCHILL STATE PARK

About 25 miles (40 km) north of Yerington are the ruins of Fort Churchill, a U.S. Army Fort built in 1861 to protect settlers and guard the Pony Express mail service. A small visitors' center explains the site's history, and the ruins themselves are accessible. Visitors also may want to visit the nearby Buckland Station, an important way station for pioneers in the 1800s. Note that there is a $7 entry fee to this park.

LAHONTAN STATE RECREATION AREA

About 8 miles (13 km) north of Fort Churchill is the Lahontan Reservoir, built as part of an irrigation project to support nearby farmlands. The recreation area draws visitors for boating, fishing, horseback riding and camping: it's also a nice spot for road-trippers to stretch their legs. Note that there is a $7 entry fee to this park.

THE ELECTRIC HIGHWAY

U.S. 95 from Las Vegas to Reno is the Electric Highway—a 450-mile (724 km) stretch of freeway that eventually will have electric charging stations to support an electric vehicle making this trip. Launched in 2015, the program has seen charging stations installed in Beatty and Fallon, with additional stations to be installed in Hawthorne and Tonopah.

Phase II of this program will see charging stations along U.S. 93, also known as the Great Basin Highway. Phase II launched in May 2017 with the installation of a charging station in Panaca.

This small community of about 1,000 people boasts classic Western saloons, a historic hotel and the seasonally open Million Dollar Courthouse.

BOOT HILL CEMETERY

Pioche in the 1870s was a young — and lawless — mining town. It is said that its streets ran red with blood and that 72 people were laid to rest — with their boots on — before anyone died of natural causes.

WARD CHARCOAL OVENS

One of the most unique sights you'll find, this park is home to several photogenic 30-foot-tall, 27-foot-wide, beehive-shaped kilns that produced thousands of bushels of charcoal for the region's mines.

GREAT BASIN NATIONAL PARK

Take in 13,065-foot Wheeler Peak — one of Nevada's tallest — as you approach Great Basin National Park. The Lehman Caves system and ancient bristlecone pines are just some of the must-sees here.

CATHEDRAL GORGE STATE PARK

Once completely under water, Cathedral Gorge today is a sanctuary of slot canyons and "hoodoo" structures great for hiking and photographing.

CALIENTE

This former railroad town, with a classic Mission Revival-style railroad depot, is rolling toward rebirth as a mountain-bike mecca.

PAHRANAGAT NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

Marshes in the Mojave Desert? Yep, the wetlands here draw thousands of migratory birds traveling the Pacific Flyway, as well as other wildlife and rare fish. Hiking, wildlife viewing and hunting are among the recreational opportunities.

KERSHAW-RYAN STATE PARK

Colorful 700-foot canyon walls frame this little slice of spring-fed paradise, supporting wild grapevines, rose gardens trails and a wading pool.

VALLEY OF FIRE STATE PARK

This detour off the Great Basin Highway is worth the extra mileage! Nevada's first and oldest state park was formed when the dinosaurs roamed. Today, hike past scenic red sandstone structures and check out the visitor center to learn about the park's natural and geologic history.

BEAVER DAM STATE PARK

Visitors can experience deep canyons, flowing streams, waterfalls and pinyon, juniper and ponderosa forests.

LOST CITY MUSEUM

This state museum offers a glimpse into the life of the ancestral Puebloans, Nevada's first permanent residents. Lost City Museum houses artifacts from a nearby site that was submerged after the construction of the Hoover Dam in the 1930s created Lake Mead.

SILVER STATE OHV TRAIL

Explore 260-mile (418.4-km) Silver State OHV trail system, riding past Joshua trees, mine shafts that may date back to the 19th century and, if you're lucky, a protected desert tortoise. There are a handful of trailheads around the communities of Caliente and Pioche. The two closest are the Chief Mountain South Trailhead, 9 miles (14.5 km) west of Caliente; and the Stampede Trailhead, 8 miles (12.9 km) northwest of Pioche. For more on off-roading throughout Nevada, see page 67.

FIVE STATE PARKS

Five state parks all are clustered around the town of Caliente.

CATHEDRAL GORGE STATE PARK is a favorite because of its slot canyons formed by the erosion of the area's soft bentonite clay. Visitors can walk into the narrow canyons or explore the park on a 4-mile (6.4-km) or 1-mile (1.6-km) trail. Built around a former 1870s ranch, KERSHAW-RYAN STATE PARK sits in a verdant mountain canyon anchored by a spring-fed wading pool and fruit trees. Hike the 1.5-mile (2.4-km) Overlook Trail for a view of the canyon from above. Rounding out the nearby state parks are SPRING VALLEY, which draws boating enthusiasts with its 58-acre Eagle Valley Reservoir; ECHO CANYON, which has its own 65-acre reservoir; and BEAVER DAM STATE PARK.

Great Basin National Park has been called one of the "more remote" national parks by USA Today, so it stands to reason that the highway leading to it would be a little frontier-like. Indulge your rugged, independent side at these places.

Or visit Lincoln County in the fall, when the annual PARK-TO-PARK PEDAL EXTREME NEVADA BICYCLE TOUR takes place. The tour goes through four state parks — Kershaw-Ryan, Cathedral Gorge, Spring Valley and Echo Canyon. Keep an eye out for more mountain-biking opportunities in the area — construction of the CALIENTE BIKE TRAIL SYSTEM IS UNDERWAY, which will go through Kershaw-Ryan and adjacent BLM land.

DELAMAR GHOST TOWN

Delamar is south of U.S. 93 and west of Caliente on Poleline Road. (Note: a high-clearance, 4-wheel-drive vehicle is needed to negotiate the bumpy road to this ghost town.) Delamar boomed with gold mines from 1890 to 1909, and in that short time had a newspaper, post office, opera house and 50-ton mill. Like many mining towns in the early 1900s, it soon busted despite a small revival from 1929 to 1934, and visitors today can see the old wooden houses, mine frames and other remnants of this community.

OAK SPRINGS SUMMIT TRILOBITE AREA

Just off U.S. 93 at Oak Springs Summit (west of Caliente) is the Oak Springs Summit Trilobite Area maintained by the federal Bureau of Land Management. The area has fossil remains of six types of trilobites (extinct marine arthropods) that lived in a shallow sea 500 million to 524 million years ago. Visitors are allowed to collect trilobite fossils in reasonable quantities for personal use. They may not be bartered or sold.

Great Basin NATIONAL PARK

National Parks have always drawn visitors seeking a respite from their busy lives, looking to nature for comfort and renewal. These parks showcase the very best and awe-inspiring of the American landscape — from glaciers to geysers, and dense forests to stark tundra.

Great Basin National Park, on Nevada's eastern edge, is one of the stunning parks where solitude can still be found, and where nature runs wild and uninterrupted. The park teems with wildlife, on land and in air, and tells the story of the geological formation of the western U.S., its waters draining inland into this, the Great Basin.

Aspen groves shade the mountain streams and shimmer with dew on cool autumn mornings. Bristlecone pine trees, thousands of years old, still grow, gnarled with age. Subterranean caves awe visitors with an array of colors and patterns formed over many millennia. And one of Nevada's tallest peaks, Wheeler Peak, beckons hikers to its snowy summit.

Great Basin National Park ★ EXPLORE NEVADA

Have you ever stood under a night sky lighted only with billions of brilliant stars, completely untouched by man-made light?

Places like this are hard to find, which is why they are given a special designation by the International Dark Sky Association. These places are special because it's under these blankets of stars dotting an inky black sky that one can sense the immensity of the world.

Other expanses of unpolluted atmosphere can be found in Nevada's interior where towns and traffic are few and far between.

Tonopah, halfway between Reno and Las Vegas, was once named the No. 1 place to stargaze in the United States. View its vast canopy of stars at night, and perhaps you'll even catch a glimpse of military aircraft from the not-too-distant Area 51.

Great Basin National Park received its Dark Skies designation in 2016 and celebrates its lack of light pollution every September with an Astronomy Festival.

MIDDLEGATE STATION

In the kitchen of this real-deal roadhouse — established in 1860 as a Pony Express station — there lurks a legend: the Middlegate Monster. Whether you slay this multi-pound burger beast or simply bask in the old-school ambiance, Middlegate Station is a must.

"WE DON'T RECOMMEND IT"

The warning — and challenge! — was laid out in the July 1986 edition of Life Magazine: U.S. 50 from Ely to Fernley is the Loneliest Road in America. A representative from AAA warns motorists to stay away, "unless they're confident of their survival skills." Game on.

STOKES CASTLE

Towering over the Reese River Valley at Austin's western edge, Stokes Castle was modeled after a real Roman tower for a well-heeled mining magnate in the late 1890s. Today it stands as a monument to the town's mining-era grandeur.

SPENCER HOT SPRINGS

Twenty miles southeast of Austin on the road to the Toquima Cave campground, Spencer Hot Springs boasts classic "cowboy tubs" and one of the most satisfying off-grid experiences in the state.

NEVADA NORTHERN RAILWAY

Roll the clock back to 1906 at the frozen-in-time East Ely Railroad Museum. Then check out the vast grounds of the Nevada Northern Railway, where you can catch a ride — or even be the engineer — on an original steam locomotive.

GREAT BASIN NATIONAL PARK

Nevada's vast, wild national park is packed with diverse natural splendor, from 13,064-foot Wheeler Peak to 5,000-year-old bristlecone pines to spectacular alpine lakes and dark skies exploding with stars — most of which you'll enjoy all to yourself.

LEHMAN CAVES

Underneath Great Basin National Park, just behind the Lehman Caves Visitor Center, is Lehman Caves. Take a guided tour of sprawling caverns filled with limestone formations, unusual cave life and intriguing human history.

SHOE TREE

A couple of miles east of Middlegate Station stands a sole-full landmark to local lore. In a tradition reportedly begun by quarrelsome lovers, pairs of shoes are slung into the giant cottonwood on the north side of the roadway. The footwear-sporting tree is the second Shoe Tree to stand in this area, the first one having been chopped down by vandals in 2011.

THE PONY EXPRESS

Before trains bound the continental United States, mail service was by horseback. The 1,800-mile (2,896.8 km) Pony Express route from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Sacramento, California, operated from 1860 to 1861, and included a section through Nevada that roughly parallels the Loneliest Road in America. Thirty stations once existed, the ruins of which can still be seen today. Historical markers designating some of the old Pony Express stops, where horses and riders were changed, can be seen along the Loneliest Road in America at Cold Springs and Sand Springs.

PETROGLYPH SITES

Ancient rock carvings can be found throughout Nevada, including several spots along The Loneliest Road in America.

About 7 miles (11 km) east of Fallon is Grimes Point Archeological Area, where you can see petroglyphs along a short interpretive trail. Near Grimes Point is Hidden Cave, a four-millennia-old American Indian storage site that can be visited via twice-monthly guided tours offered by the Churchill County Museum. Petroglyphs also can be seen at the Hickison Petroglyph Recreation Area, about 24 miles (39 km) east of Austin. This campground area has a short interpretive loop trail that passes by petroglyphs. Pictographs, ancient paintings on rocks, can be seen at Toquima Cave, about 30 miles (48 km) southeast of Austin. Toquima Cave was used by Native American people between 3,000 and 1,500 years ago.

MCGILL DRUGSTORE

This unusual museum in McGill, 13 miles (30 km) north of Ely on U.S. 93, bills itself as a time machine that takes you back to the Watergate era.

The drugstore operated from 1915 to 1979. After its closure, everything inside the store was kept as-is. Today, it's open to visitors by appointment. McGill itself is a former company town built in the 1900s to house workers at a copper smelter. The population hit its high point in 1930 with 3,017 people. Mining production decreased over the decades and the smelter was closed in 1983.

5 BOULDER CITY

45 min from Las Vegas
28 miles/45 km

This quaint town was built to house dam builders and has maintained its 1930s charm. Stay in the art-deco Boulder Dam Hotel, shop the walkable downtown area, or view the Las Vegas valley from the thrilling heights of Flightlinez Bootleg Canyon.

Death Valley NATIONAL PARK

Death Valley National Park is an easy day trip from Las Vegas, but you're going to want to plan a lot more than a day to experience this untamed corner of Nevada.

Entering the park from the eastern edge offers easy access to some of the most famous sites including Zabriskie Point, Artists Palette, Devil's Golf Course, and Badwater Basin, the point of lowest elevation in the United States. Summer months can be dangerously hot in Death Valley, so it's smart to make nearby Beatty or Pahrump your base camp for adventure in the park.

ALONG THE WAY

BEATTY

The Wild West lives on in this desert town on the eastern edge of Death Valley. The always entertaining Beatty Cowboys stage holdups and saloon capers for delighted visitors, although "The Floozies and Petticoats" have been known to steal the show.

RHYOLITE

Just a few miles outside of Beatty, the ghost town of Rhyolite offers strikingly beautiful ruins of a mining town and an array of outdoor art. The Goldwell Open Air Museum is a collection of large-scale art that greets visitors as they drive into the ghost town.

PAHRUMP

Pioneers in the desert-wine industry got their start in Pahrump, and a visit to the vineyards and tasting rooms will be the perfect way to experience this high-adventure town. Deserts are hot, so why not cool off at JetPack America's wet-n-wild location in Pahrump before continuing your adventure in Death Valley?

AMARGOSA OPERA HOUSE

Murals of awed admirers ensure that there's always a packed house in this quirky opera house on the edge of Death Valley. Famed Broadway dancer Marta Becket made this her home and stage for more than 40 years and created an artistic gem in the historic mining district.

How did you end up at Atomic Liquors?

I love hanging around Downtown and seeing its development the last few years. When you see the history being embraced, it's an exciting thing to get behind. I first came to Atomic Liquors as a patron and fell in love with the history of the place instantly. After soaking in the importance of the history here, I knew I had to go all in — I had to work here. I love a good story, and this place has definitely got one.

What's with the atomic theme?

Atomic energy, the idea of the atomic bomb... really anything nuclear was at the forefront of everyone's mind during the 1950s when the bar first opened. Atomic tourism — the idea that you could come to Vegas and see a real atomic blast — was getting marketed everywhere. The owner at the time embraced it, renamed his business Atomic Liquors, and it's been working ever since.

What's your favorite cocktail to whip up?

I love presenting a good "Old Fashioned." It's one of those classic cocktails that is so basic, but it gets mishandled so much. People really appreciate a simple cocktail.

Someone has an hour or two to kill.*Why Fremont Street?

History, history, history. Right down to the neon lights. These signs were big everywhere [in the 1950s], but Las Vegas blew it up to its biggest proportion. Here, you're immersed in it. I don't know anywhere else that embraces this kind of vintage resurgence and local history. It was a fascinating time in people's imaginations and you can get that here.

Why does Atomic Liquors stand out?*What's in the secret sauce?

If you're looking for that locals bar that feels like home, Atomic Liquors is it...it's the most immediate and accessible way to really experience Vegas. Everything I see in this town is so much more than the Strip.

—INTERVIEW BY SYDNEY MARTINEZ

Jeffrey Grindley

Las Vegas native Jeffrey Bennington Grindley knew he simply had to work at Fremont Street's Atomic Liquors the minute he laid eyes on it. Located in the heart of downtown Las Vegas, Atomic Liquors has certainly seen, and been ingrained in, its fair share of Atomic Nevada-meets-Rat Pack-meets-Mobster Vintage Vegas ties. For Jeff, nowhere in Vegas is anything like it.

GHOST TOWNS

Ghost towns, usually mining towns from the late 19th century that were abandoned when the mines played out, can be found throughout the America West, but a couple in the vicinity include Tuscarora and Metropolis. Tuscarora, about 53 miles (85 km) northwest of Elko, was home to several thousand people in 1878, its mining period. Today, Tuscarora has a handful of residents and is home to the Tuscarora Summer Pottery School.

Metropolis, on the other hand, is a pure ghost town. Only a few structures — the old Lincoln School, circa 1919, and an archway — remain of this optimistically named community 61 miles (98 km) east and north of Elko. Metropolis is unusual in that it was a planned agricultural community rather than a mining town. Founded in 1910, the community endured pests, disease, fire and drought before its last residents left in the 1930s and '40s.

EAT HERE!

The Star Hotel in Elko specializes in Basque cuisine, featuring hearty fare served in large portions of beef and lamb steaks, homemade soups, salads, beans, spaghetti and bread. This tradition dates back to the 19th century, when Basque sheepherders immigrated to Northern Nevada, and hotels in the area catered to the Basque with large dining rooms serving substantial fare after a long day's work.

John Wright

Growing up in Elko, John Wright wanted to be a rodeo cowboy, store owner and rancher, just like his grandfather. At 36, he has achieved those goals and runs the family business, J.M. Capriola Co., a Western gear store in downtown Elko. Dating back to 1929, Capriola's still makes saddles and other leather items by hand on the shop's second floor — a tradition Wright is proud to continue. He also is one of the driving forces behind the Cowboy Arts and Gear Museum, a few doors down from Capriola's.

How has Elko changed since you were young?

Elko has always been a cowboy town. Growing up, I was exposed to the most influential and talented cowboys and ranchers. Some of the most recognized cowboys in the entire West are products of Elko County, Nevada. With that being said, without mining, Elko would still be a small cow town. While the rest of the world was suffering from a sluggish economy, Elko was thriving [and] the community has grown in huge proportions.

You've said that Elko means everything to you. What makes Elko such a special place?

Nothing beats a Nevada sunset or the sun rising over the majestic Ruby Mountains. I'm grounded here, happy, content. God has dealt me a pretty good hand. My mom taught me the love of the land in Elko County. She is really who I thank when it comes to the appreciation I have for our ranch lands.

Your mother, Paula Wright, had wanted to start a cowboy gear museum. You've been able to help make that happen with the Cowboy Arts & Gear Museum. What would your mom say if she could see it today?

She would be smiling ear to ear knowing that the past will be preserved for future generations and that Elko has something new to offer visitors. This museum is truly a continuation of her legacy.

Elko is a popular spot to stop with travelers on Interstate 80. What do you suggest they visit or do?

Our store, of course, should be one of the first stops. We always direct people where to go from here — the Cowboy Arts and Gear Museum, Western Folklife Center, Lamoille Canyon in the Ruby Mountains, the Northeastern Nevada Museum, Machi's Restaurant, The Star Hotel... Elko really is a destination every traveler must visit to soak in the rich cowboy, Basque culture, and vast outdoor experience.

FISHING

Liberty Lake, Ruby Mountains

Don't let Nevada's desert status fool you! Nevada has more than 200 lakes and reservoirs and 600 streams and rivers, where fishing abounds. Nevada's mountain ranges even offer ice fishing for those brave enough to explore the alpine lakes.

From the Jarbidge River in the north to the Colorado River in the south, fishing holes dot the landscape. Some locals' favorites are Pyramid Lake on the Pyramid Lake Paiute Reservation, where anglers fish for Lahontan cutthroat trout, a fish once believed to be extinct; and the section of the East Walker River around Yerington, home of the Walker River State Recreation Area.

The state also is ridged with mountain ranges, many of which hold alpine lakes that freeze over in winter. There also are many reservoirs throughout the state, including Cave Lake near Ely and the South Fork Reservoir near Elko.

Check out local visitors bureaus for information on area fishing sites and outfitters.

DON'T FORGET YOUR LICENSE!

Get your fishing license from the Nevada Department of Wildlife. Visit ndow.org/fish.

Already here? Grab it at one of the state's license agents — a list can be found on the NDOW website.

The NDOW site also has the Nevada Fishing Guide, as well as information on where to fish, stocking updates and more.

If you're fishing Pyramid Lake, you will need a permit from the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe. For details and permits, visit PyramidLake.us, and click on the "fishing" link.

GOLF

Should you pack the clubs? Definitely — especially if your trip takes you to southern Nevada, where golf courses in Las Vegas, Mesquite, Laughlin and Pahrump offer year-round options. In the northern side of the state, greens are plentiful in Reno, Lake Tahoe, Carson City and Carson Valley. Check with area visitors bureaus for details about specific courses.

GHOST TOWNS

Did you know we have MORE THAN 600 ghost towns?
Here are just a few highlights.

Gold Point

RHYOLITE

One of the most photographed ghost towns in the West, Rhyolite stands guard at Death Valley's eastern entrance, ushering visitors through the passage of time and space and terrain. The famed Bottle House, constructed of nearly 50,000 beer bottles, has been restored and hints at an eccentricity sown through the "Wild West."

METROPOLIS

Ornate stone archways and crumbling hotel ruins are just a few remnants of Metropolis' former glory. The town was a bustling boom town with a newspaper, hotel, railway and school. It swelled to nearly 1,000 residents in the early 1900s, and then deflated to fewer than 100 by 1920.

BERLIN

Berlin is a ghost town tied by the terrain to its closest neighbor, an ichthyosaur fossil site, and now protected as Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park. The town, adjacent mine, and dinosaur remains are a motley representation of Nevada's vast history.

GOLD POINT

Referred to as "the friendly ghost town," Gold Point creates a happy medium for explorers looking to experience a historic ghost town, and afterward sleep in a warm bed at the Gold Point Bed at Breakfast.

ELDORADO CANYON

Home of the oldest and most famous gold mine in southern Nevada, now popular with photographers, history buffs, and movie location scouts. Visitors can tour the Techatticup Mine, once owned by famed politician and publisher George Hearst, and explore the mine and town that was so remote that it became famous for its ruthless vigilantism.

Every boom ends with a bust, turning Nevada's once-great mining towns into ghost towns, preserved in the arid desert
in a state of arrested decay.
Nevada's ghost towns tell the story of the West, from abandoned mining equipment to sprawling ranches and crumbling downtowns.

HOT SPRINGS

The thrill of the hunt

There are tons of hot springs out there—in fact, Nevada has the most hot springs in the United States. Spend the time researching hot spots, carefully select your crew, bring the right gear and hit the trail. #NVHotsprings

HOT SPRINGING HOW-TO

GOOGLE MAPS AIN'T GONNA CUT IT

In rural Nevada, Google Maps is just about as handy as a full-on scuba setup on the playa. Spring for a map, or even better, a super detailed state atlas and get down to some good old-fashioned map navigating.

SPORT THE RIGHT SHOES AND PACK AN EXTRA SUIT OR TWO

Most Nevada hot springs are surrounded by a muddy alkali surface that you won't be able to drive on. When hunting down a spring, plan to park a few hundred feet away, due to weather conditions. It's a good idea to bring some shoes that you can get messy in. And along with the right shoes, it's a foolproof trick to bring multiple swimsuits, because who wants to spring-hop with a wet suit?

Learn more about hot spring etiquette in this article on TravelNevada.com

You may notice that no image on here is tagged — that is intentional, and is part of the spirit of stewardship surrounding hot springs, especially no geotagging.

LIVE BY THE BUDDY SYSTEM

It's a smart idea to let a friend know what section of the state you're heading to for the weekend, and it's always a good idea to bring friends along with you.

LEAVE IT HOW YOU FOUND IT

Being a good steward is what hot springing is all about. There are phenomenal hot springs on private land, and most Nevada ranchers out there let people enjoy them, so long as they don't trash it. If the gate on the road is open, leave it open. If you found it closed, make sure you close it behind you. And be sure that you pack out whatever you packed in.

THINK BEFORE YOU JUMP

Many Nevada hot springs have a classic cattle trough, or a bathtub with water irrigated into it...a ringing indicator that many soakers have enjoyed the spring. But, sources are known to change sporadically just as often as any other environmental factor would. It's always crucial to check the temperature before taking a dip. And be sure to keep close tabs on your pups, as well.

NO GEOTAGGING!

You found the spring and want to share a photo with all your friends back home. Go ahead and post the shot — you've earned it. But, don't make the ultimate faux pas by geotagging it. Working all day to find a place that's lesser known is like a gift. Be sure to respect the culture. Nevada hot springs are pristine and relatively secretive... so let's keep 'em that way.

CAMP AWAY FROM THE SPRING

Good form is staking your setup at least 50-75 feet away from the source. Private property? Camping is probably frowned upon unless there's a sign indicating that you may. As for campfires? Never leave a smoldering fire — make sure it is completely out before you hit the road.

WHAT DRESS CODE?

When it comes to dress code at a hot spring, the main rule is that there are no rules. It's totally the norm to come up on a spring and find everyone in the nude, so just be prepared to roll with it. If you show up and people are nude and you don't want to be, no one will ever force you to strip down, but definitely don't expect everyone else to put clothes on. And, if other people are in suits but you have your heart set on rocking that birthday suit, ask if everyone is ok with it.

STEWART INDIAN SCHOOL

The Stewart Indian School in Carson City served as the only off-reservation Indian boarding school in Nevada from 1890 through 1980. Now, nearly 40 years after its closing, the historic campus is undergoing a renaissance.

For full details about the Talking Trail tour, visit StewartIndianSchool.com

Many of the school's iconic stone structures remain in place and the State of Nevada is creating a cultural and historic complex that tells the story of the school that was home to more than 30,000 American Indian students from Nevada and throughout the West.

In the meantime, visitors are welcome to the campus for guided tours by staff members of the Nevada Indian Commission or a self-guided tour that allows visitors to use their cell phones to access recorded messages from school alumni and employees related to 20 points of interest on the campus. Some highlights of this "Talking Trail" tour include:

AUDITORIUM

Daisy Smith, 6 years old when she arrived at Stewart, shares her memories of the Auditorium and her first Christmas pageant.

SMALL GIRLS DORM

Hear how Aletha Tom came to the school on a bus from the Moapa Indian Reservation in southern Nevada when she was 12 years old. Her first time away, she tells of her life in the Small Girls Dorm and the strict rules she had to follow.

STEAM TUNNELS

The entire Stewart Campus was heated by steam from underground tunnels fueled by coal and wood chips delivered by train on a V&T rail spur. Larry Hale, Stewart Buildings & Grounds supervisor, explains.

OLD GYM AND ATHLETIC FIELDS

Judge Robey Willis shares fond memories of being the boxing coach and the assistant football coach for Stewart. He vividly describes some of his favorite moments in both the old gym and on the football field.

Off-road adventures with guides and outfitters also are an option, from UTV Addiction in the Reno area to Great Southwest Moto Adventures in the Las Vegas.

ROCK HOUNDING

Garnet Hill, northwest of Ely

Miners have been digging in Nevada's dirt for hundreds of years, seeking fortune in its rich gold and silver deposits, and unearthing valuable resources and glittering gems. Visitors can find their own slice of fortune in the form of opals and garnets at popular rock-hounding sites in the northern half of the state.

Turn your stones into custom jewelry!

Follow the journey of the found garnets above transformed this piece of jewelry.

GARNETS

Just a few miles west of Ely is a small recreation area called Garnet Hill, and it's free to the public, just bring your own hammer. Rock hounds can look for the deep-red gemstone peeking through weather-worn rocks, or break open rocks to look for the gems inside.

Because Garnet Hill is so close to Ely, it's a fun addition to Ely's other attractions such as riding the Nevada Northern Railway, visiting the East Ely Depot Museum, viewing the cultural homes in Renaissance Village, or taking a day trip to Great Basin National Park.

OPALS

The Virgin Valley deep in the northwestern corner of Nevada — approximately five hours north of Reno — is not easy to get to, but the payoff is big. Commercial opal mines welcome visitors to mine their tailings — for a fee — and dig out luminous opals and the rare black opal, found in only two locations in the world (the other is in Australia). Amateur rock hounds, intrepid travelers, and memory-making families can be found in the mine quarries poring over rock piles in search for the precious gemstones.

Garnet Hill, northwest of Ely

The mines that allow digging are Royal Peacock, Bonanza, and Rainbow Ridge. The digging season typically starts in May, and if you go, be prepared for primitive camping and limited services. This trip has all the makings of a true adventure: gravel roads, spotty cell service, and few people.

WINTER SPORTS

LAKE TAHOE

Diamond Peak, Lake Tahoe

Set in the Sierra Nevada range about 40 miles (64 km) from Reno, Lake Tahoe is ringed with ski resorts, including three in Nevada: Mt. Rose-Ski Tahoe, Diamond Peak and Heavenly, which straddles the Nevada-California border.

Many guests will stay in Reno and take shuttles to Tahoe ski resorts, but lodging is available in the Lake Tahoe basin at Incline Village and at Stateline. Heavenly is accessible from the Stateline casino-resorts via a gondola in the Heavenly Village and from the Ridge Tahoe, an on-mountain resort with ski-in/ski-out access. Sierra Nevada snow affords opportunities for other winter fun. Zephyr Cove Resort, located on the shores of Lake Tahoe, has a snowmobile outfitter that offers ridgetop rides.

Snowshoers and cross-country skiers like the terrain at Spooner Lake & Backcountry, a Nevada state park in the

Chickadee Ridge,
Lake Tahoe

mountains above Carson City; and at the Mount Rose Meadows in Reno, at the summit of Mount Rose Highway (Nevada state Route 431) and part of the Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest. Area ski shops often offer snowshoe rentals along with ski rentals, or book a guided tour.

Enjoy winter scenery from the vantage point of a sleigh ride — Borges Sleigh and Carriage Rides is a popular outfitter — or the Heavenly Gondola, which features a mid-mountain viewing platform from which to see Lake Tahoe.

Skiing in Nevada is centered at Lake Tahoe in the northwestern section of the state, but you can also hit the slopes in the Ruby Mountains in the east near Elko and at Lee Canyon near Las Vegas.

Snowshoeing, cross-country skiing and snowmobiling also are options in Nevada's many mountain ranges.

During the winter months, expect milder temperatures in the Las Vegas Valley and the southern end of the state (57-70 degrees Fahrenheit/14-21 degrees Celsius). In Reno and the northern end of the state, winters are colder, and at elevation, prepare for snow conditions.

Aurel Baker

Born and raised in Reno, Aurel Baker's love of the outdoors began early. By age three, she was already flying down the slopes of Mt. Rose-Ski Tahoe. On and off the mountain, her appreciation for Nevada's wilderness and abundant recreational opportunities grew into a lifelong passion.

Today, the 29-year-old nursing student is an avid skier, mountain biker, angler, and all-around lover of her state's wild places.

You learned to ski at Mt. Rose-Ski Tahoe. What are some of your favorite runs?

Hmmm.... Detonator, El Cap, Cardiac Ridge.

Mountain biking is a thriving sport in northern Nevada. What do you think makes Nevada stand out?

Nevada has many trail options, from short and casual to long and technical. The cool thing about riding in northern Nevada is that you have the mountains to the west and the desert to the east. There are not too many places where you get to ride in such a diverse landscape, sometimes getting to see both on the same ride.

Many people would be surprised at the amount of fishing available in Nevada. You've fished Nevada's lakes and streams — can you tell us about the one that got away?

The one that got away... well, that seems to be a regular occurrence, but when you hook a fish, it's usually a big one and always beautiful. I fish barbless hooks, which can make keeping the fish on the hook challenging sometimes. The Truckee River requires patience. It has been said that, "If you can fish the Truckee, you can fish any river." Nevada's mountain ranges are also full of alpine lakes and streams that provide beautiful fishing as well.

Nevada is also the most mountainous state in the Lower 48. What draws you to the Silver State's peaks and ranges?

I am happiest in the mountains! There is something about the raw and rugged beauty of the ranges in Nevada that is very appealing to me. The peaks and ranges in Nevada are some of the most beautiful I've spent time in. The Rubies and Toiyabes might be a couple of my favorite spots. It's pretty neat to be able to go jump in a nearby hot spring after you've spent time on a mountain all day, too.

ELKO

On the eastern end of the state, the Ruby Mountains jut out of the Great Basin Desert with peaks above 10,000 feet/3,048 meters. Anchored by the city of Elko, this region is known for cattle ranching and gold mining, and also is home to the Ruby Mountains Heli-Experience. Based in the community of Lamoille, this helicopter ski outfitter also offers lodging at its new Ruby 360 Lodge and two yurts.

360 Heli-Experience, Ruby Mountains

Elko itself has a small ski hill, the SnoBowl Ski & Bike Park. The city also is the base camp for guests indulging in other winter sports. Nearby snowmobile areas include Lamoille Canyon Scenic Byway and Charleston Reservoir; ice fishing is possible at the South Fork State Recreation Area and at Wild Horse Recreation Area; and cross country skiing is popular at Harrison Pass near Jiggs and at Angel Lake Scenic Byway south of Wells.

LAS VEGAS

Lee Canyon — formerly the Las Vegas Ski and Snowboard Resort —

Lee Canyon, Las Vegas

is in the Spring Mountains National Recreation Area, about 50 miles (80 km) from Las Vegas. This resort has three lifts and 30 serviced snow trails and is near Mount Charleston, the region's tallest peak at 11,916 feet (3,631 meters). Snowshoeing, sledding and other snow play is possible in the Spring Mountains NCA, which is part of the Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest.

Weddings

Lovers from all over the globe travel to Nevada to take advantage of the myriad unique wedding experiences offered throughout the state. From whimsical, fun ceremonies in Las Vegas to outdoor events at Lake Tahoe, Nevada weddings run the gamut. Besides beautiful and unique venues from which to choose, Nevada offers ease and simplicity when it comes to tying the knot. There is no waiting period or blood test requirement in the Silver State. Couples will have to obtain a marriage license from the county clerk's office, but once that is in hand, they are ready to exchange vows.

TRAVELNEVADA PRO TIP

With 6 parks, the largest concentration of Nevada State Parks is in the southeastern corner of the state, boasting six totally different ways to experience Nevada's outdoor splendor within a short distance.

**Elgin School House State Historic Park is a bit more of a challenge to experience, as roads on the way to the park have been washed out and there is no full-time ranger ready to welcome you. Before traveling the 20 miles out of the way to Elgin, call to set up an appointment-only tour at 775-726-3564.*

If I were talking to the 10-year-old David Low, and told him that some day he would become a park ranger, what would he say?

He would be out of his mind with joy. It is absurd that it didn't occur to me until I was 30 to get into this line of work. It is such a natural fit, I can't believe no one said no David, you should stop what you're doing and become a park ranger NOW.

Why is Spring Mountain Ranch State Park special?

In this hidden gem of a place, you can see a desert oasis, or towering sandstone bluffs—like those at Zion [National Park]—and enough shelter from the lights of the Strip that you can even see the Milky Way from the park. Plus, you've got this amazing sense of history. To international visitors, I'd say, "Komm doch vorbei – das lohnt sich!"

How have you noticed your stewardship paying off?

I've seen people attend our programs and grow as outdoors people and as appreciators of history and nature, including some people who've come to our night hikes who had never hiked before. They've blossomed and gained confidence and now they do all kinds of amazing stuff. That's really gratifying for me to see.

What's the power behind the hat?

I think the "flat hat" is honestly one of the most powerful tools a park ranger has. I'm not a Law Enforcement Ranger. I don't carry any other visible symbols of authority on me — not even a badge. But when I walk up to somebody — and man, I hope this comes across to everyone — this hat tells them that I am someone with integrity, someone responsible for taking care of something... that I'm someone who is willing to spend their lifetime protecting something for other people.

David Low

Though originally from the Midwest, David Low knew he had to come to Nevada to share the multifaceted story of southern Nevada.

From the flora and fauna of the alluring Mojave

Desert, to tales of pioneers past, right down to the very start modern civilization in the Las Vegas Valley, if anyone is sure to get you psyched on some Nevada history, it's David. As the Park Ranger of Spring Mountain Ranch State Park, travel the 30 minutes off Strip to hear this passionate Nevadan spin a serious yarn — you won't be sad you did. TravelNevada Pro Tip: be sure to ask about the Ranch's chinchilla farming days, a 30-karat diamond theft, a secret passageway, and a pet cow named Penelope.

FINDING YOUR WAY AROUND NEVADA

Nevada Territories

The Silver State is the 7th largest state in the United States at 110,567 square miles (177,940 square km)

To help you get around Nevada, and better understand its geography, topography and history, we talk in terms of territories. There are six distinctive regions within the state, each with its own features and attractions. Five of the territories are geographical; the sixth, Nevada's Indian Territory, is cultural and covers the entire state. Peruse this next section for information on attractions, history and lodging by territory.

Tag your adventures
#DFMI

Cowboy Country

Named for the gritty and gutsy cowboys who still work the ranches in the northern part of the state, Cowboy Country is home to such heritage sites as the Western Folklife Center in Elko and the Buckaroo Hall of Fame in Winnemucca.

Reno-Tahoe Territory

A revitalized downtown and the MidTown District draw visitors to Reno, the anchor community of this territory. The outdoorsy vibe is complemented by nearby Lake Tahoe, where hiking, biking, water sports and skiing define the lifestyle.

Pony Express Territory

The horseback Pony Express mail service once blazed through this region and roughly follows U.S. 50, described in a national magazine as "The Loneliest Road in America" — but that's part of the charm, along with recreational opportunities, historic sites and rustic communities.

Be sure to refer to your Nevada State Map for details to roads, cities and towns.

Nevada Silver Trails

Explore stark and beautiful landscapes. Dive into desert panoramas at the Mining Park in Tonopah, the Silver State OHV Trail near Pioche or one of the many state parks in the region, including Berlin-Ichthyosaur (home of a ghost town and a fossil site) and Cathedral Gorge.

Las Vegas Territory

Over-the-top resorts, world-class entertainment and plenty of ways to try your luck: Las Vegas needs no introduction. But explore another side of the region: Hoover Dam, Lake Mead, Valley of Fire and Red Rock Canyon are just some of the territory's gems.

Nevada Indian Territory

This territory comprises the entire state. Nevada is home to the Washoe, Northern Paiute, Western Shoshone and Southern Paiute tribes. Sites of cultural significance can be found throughout, from Pyramid Lake in the north to ancient petroglyphs in Grapevine Canyon in the south.

Cowboy Country

Rodeo is big here, with the Ranch Hand Rodeo every spring in Winnemucca and the Silver State Stampede every summer in Elko. Western culture also is celebrated at the National Cowboy Poetry Gathering every winter in Elko. Cowboy Country also is home to the Black Rock Desert, home of the annual Burning Man festival in September, and open for exploration at other times of the year.

Beyond our western heritage and Burning Man, in Cowboy Country you can proclaim your eternal love in Lovelock (it's as easy as locking an engraved lock onto a chain at the Pershing County Courthouse); watch the annual Human Powered Speed Challenge, held every fall; and trek through breathtaking Lamoille Canyon, where you can ski, fish, horseback ride, backcountry heli-ski and more. Visit CowboyCountry.org for more information on events, things to do and more.

MUST SEES!

Black Rock Desert

About 120 miles (194 km) northeast of Reno, the Black Rock Desert playa is part of the larger Black Rock Desert-High Rock Canyon Emigrant Trails National Conservation Area, which includes 120 miles (194 km) of emigrant trails, natural hot springs, and High Rock Canyon. Visit BLM.gov and look under the "Visit" menu for the BLM's webpage on the Black Rock Desert NCA, or visit Friends of Black Rock High Rock, BlackRockDesert.org.

For an itinerary that incorporates the Black Rock Desert, see pages 22-24.

Elko

Ranching and cowboying traditions are reflected in downtown Elko at the Cowboy Arts and Gear Museum, the Western Folklife Center (home of the National Cowboy Poetry Gathering), and J.M. Capriola, a saddle shop and western gear store dating back to 1929, plus the nearby Northeastern Nevada Museum and the California Trail Interpretive Center. Hungry? Grab dinner at The Star Hotel, a Basque restaurant dating back to 1910.

Lovelock

Next to the county courthouse in Lovelock is Lovers Lock Plaza, where you can declare your eternal love by hanging engraved locks onto the plaza's chain fences. If that's not adventure enough, head off road to Lovelock Cave, a former archaeological site about 20 miles (32 km) south of Lovelock. The cave was used by indigenous people between about 2,000 B.C. and 1,000 A.D. Today, you can visit the site, and take a short (half-mile) interpretive hike to the cave.

Ruby Mountains & Lamoille Canyon

Hiking, fishing and horseback riding are among the popular activities here in the Rubies, east of Elko. In the winter, outfitter Ruby Mountain Helicopter Skiing (HelicopterSkiing.com) offers an unforgettable experience in pristine powder. Lamoille Canyon, a glacier-cut canyon in the heart of the Rubies, offers spectacular fall colors and spring waterfalls. See it from the Lamoille Canyon Scenic Byway.

Reno-Tahoe Territory

From the urban culture of Reno's downtown and MidTown districts to the recreational opportunities around Lake Tahoe, Reno-Tahoe Territory offers a diverse experience. Visit Virginia City and walk the wooden boardwalks past shops and restaurants housed in 19th-century buildings. Carson City, the state capital, is home to the Nevada State Museum, the Nevada State Railroad Museum and the Stewart Indian School. Head to the Carson Valley — consisting of the communities of Gardnerville, Minden, Genoa and Topaz Lake — for fishing, hiking, off-road trails and other recreation. Easily accessed via Reno-Tahoe International Airport, Interstate 80 or U.S. 395, Reno-Tahoe Territory serves up an assortment of things to do and see. Visit RenoTahoe.com to view an interactive map, explore destinations and more.

Lake Tahoe

MUST SEES!

Carson City

Nevada’s capital city (about 30 miles/48 km south of Reno) is home to two state museums (more on pages 60-61), and the state Capitol building is open for tours from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturdays. Visitors may also walk the Blue Line Trail for a self-guided tour through the city’s historic district or ride the V&T Railway from Carson City to Virginia City.

Lake Tahoe

The largest alpine lake in North America sits in the Sierra Nevada range, about 30 miles (48 km) southwest of Reno. Surrounded by evergreen forests and snow-capped mountains, Lake Tahoe draws visitors for bicycling, hiking and water sports in summer, and skiing, boarding and snowshoeing in winter.

For a Lake Tahoe itinerary, see pages 26.

Reno Downtown & MidTown

Downtown Reno offers a mix of art, upscale dining, recreation and more. Attractions include the Nevada Museum of Art, The Discovery science museum, the National Automobile Museum, Truckee River Whitewater Park and BaseCamp climbing center, with a 164-foot outdoor climbing wall on the side of the Whitney Peak Hotel. Just south of downtown Reno is the emerging MidTown District, with quirky shops, restaurants, and craft breweries.

For an itinerary incorporating some of the MidTown hot spots, see the Burner Byway, pages 22-24.

Virginia City

The Old West lives on in this former mining boomtown about 26 miles (42 km) southeast of Reno. Founded in 1860, Virginia City was home to thousands — including author Mark Twain — in the late 19th century. Today, the community still sports the Victorian-era buildings once used by silver barons and miners. Walk the wooden boardwalks, tour the haunted Washoe Club, visit one of the many museums or ride the old Virginia & Truckee Railroad. Plan your visit to coincide with one on the town’s many unique events, such as International Camel & Ostrich Races.

CREATE ART. DESTROY MONOTONY.

Greatness is born from a clash of opposites. Like Reno Tahoe, where America's largest alpine lake collides with the Biggest Little City in the World. Here, you can make it big, make it loud, make it beautiful or unbelievable. Make it whatever you want, just make it happen in Reno Tahoe.

Pony Express Territory

Pony Express Territory consists of the corridor along scenic U.S. 50, and includes such gems as Great Basin National Park (more on page 36); the former mining towns of Austin and Eureka; and the agricultural community of Fallon. Highway 50, “The Loneliest Road in America” (dubbed in 1986 by a story in Life Magazine), runs through the territory. View an itinerary and more on the Loneliest Road in America on pages 42-45. PonyExpressNevada.com is a great resource for special events, historical information on the communities, and even an audio tour of the territory.

MUST SEES!

Austin

Almost dead-center on the “Loneliest Road in America,” Austin offers a quiet place to recreate and sightsee in the Toiyabe Range. Check out Stokes Castle, the ruins of a mansion built in 1897 for a mine developer, and the old cemetery, which dates back to 1863. Austin is also a base camp for visiting Spencer Hot Springs, Toquima Caves and the Hickison Petroglyphs.

Ely

On the eastern side of the state, Ely is closest city to Great Basin National Park and draws visitors with its Nevada Northern Railway and East Ely Railroad Depot Museum. View murals depicting the city’s history, as well as Renaissance Village (open May through September). Visitors can explore nearby Cave Lake and Ward Charcoal Ovens state parks, the Garnet Hill public rock hounding area and the fascinating McGill Drugstore Museum.

Eureka

The story of this former mining town is told at the Eureka Sentinel Museum, housed in the Eureka Sentinel Newspaper Building, dating back to 1879. For an amazing photo op, check out the restored Eureka Opera House — circa 1880 — and its original hand-painted stage curtain.

Fallon

Known as the “Oasis of Nevada,” Fallon is one of Nevada’s rich agricultural areas. About 63 miles (101 km) east of Reno, Fallon is dotted with small, family owned farms. Lattin Farms is open to the public; and the Frey Ranch Distillery is open from noon to 4 p.m. Saturdays. Learn about the city and surrounding Lahontan Valley at the Churchill County Museum, view petroglyphs at nearby Grimes Point Archaeological Area, and cruise the sand dunes at Sand Mountain Recreation Area.

In the middle of Nevada, no one can hear you scream.

As Highway 50 winds eastward through the Great Basin it passes through the town of Austin, smack in the middle of rural Nevada. With the expansive Toiyabe Mountain Range as its backyard, it features some of the best mountain biking, hiking and exploring in the state. And if you need some time to kick back, Austin has motels, restaurants and unique shops all along its historic Main Street. Austin, Nevada: where adventurous souls meet.

Time to hit the road

TIMES HAVE CHANGED, BUT THE ADVENTURE CONTINUES

Highway 50 has always been a favorite drive for Nevada travelers. This historic route across Pony Express Territory is known for its majestic scenery and colorful communities. The old Pony Express Trail evolved into the Lincoln Highway, then became Highway 50 where it was dubbed "America's Loneliest Road." But during the summer travel season, there's plenty to see and do. Visit PonyExpressNevada.com and request a Highway 50 Survival Guide.

Nevada Silver Trails

Ghost towns, off-road trails and some of Nevada's most fascinating state parks are in this territory. Nevada Silver Trails is a blank slate on which to create an amazing adventure. Covering 35,000 square miles (56,327 km), Nevada Silver Trails is the largest of the territories, and one of the most sparsely populated. Nevada Silver Trails also is home to Walker Lake, the Extraterrestrial Highway (for an itinerary, see pages 28-31), and Nevada's newest state park, the Walker River State Recreation Area. Visit NevadaSilverTrails.com for useful Travel Tools, including an interactive map, itineraries and a downloadable audio tour.

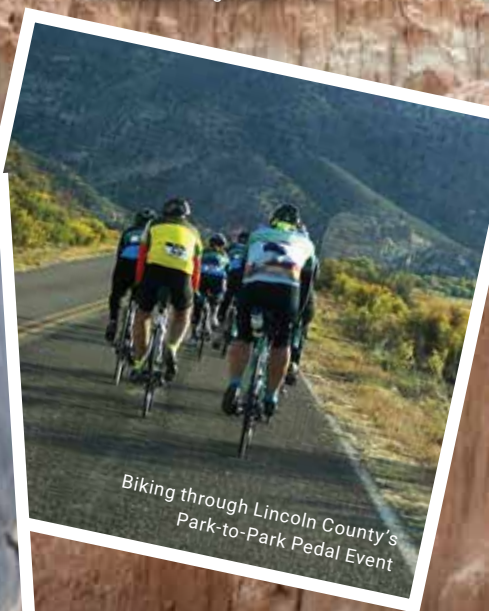

Cathedral Gorge State Park

Tonopah Historic Mining Park, Tonopah

Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park

Biking through Lincoln County's Park-to-Park Pedal Event

MUST SEES!

Berlin-Ichthyosaur State Park

This state park is home to the ghost town of Berlin as well as an ichthyosaur fossil site. In the late 19th century, gold and silver were discovered in this area at the base of the Shoshone Range. Today, visitors to Berlin can explore the old stamp mill and walk an interpretive trail where buildings once stood. The Diana Mine is open for tours in the spring and summer.

Cathedral Gorge State Park

This state park near Pioche and about 166 miles (267 km) north of Las Vegas stands out due to stunning slot canyons formed by erosion over thousands of years. This park falls within Lincoln County, home to four other state parks in close proximity: Kershaw-Ryan, Spring Valley, Echo Canyon and Beaver Dam. Mountain biking is popular here — there's an annual Park to Pedal bicycle challenge — and plans are in the works to develop an extensive mountain biking trail system in the area.

Death Valley National Park

This national park straddles the Nevada-California border and is easily accessible from the Nevada communities of Beatty and Pahrump. Pahrump, about 63 miles (101 km) west of Las Vegas, is only about 60 miles (97 km) from Death Valley's Furnace Creek Visitor Center, an excellent place to begin any exploration of the park. Beatty, about 117 miles (188 km) from Las Vegas, is seven miles from the border of Death Valley and six miles from the ghost town of Rhyolite and the Goldwell Open Air Museum.

Tonopah Historic Mining Park

Tonopah is the midpoint between the 448-mile (720-km) trek between Las Vegas and Reno. It's also where rich veins of silver were discovered in the early 20th century. The mining park sits on the town's original mining claims, and offers a look at mining shafts, stopes, stamp mills and more.

GHOST TOWNS & GUNFIGHTERS

[BEATTY/RHYOLITE] From old west shootouts along the streets of Beatty to the desolate silence of Rhyolite Ghost Town, you'll feel as if you've stepped back in time, to the days when outlaws like Billy the Kid ran a muck. The gunslingers that walk these streets today are just having fun, and while reenactments of old west shootouts are a daily occurrence, you'll find nothing but friendly folks and plenty of adventure to be had.

Las Vegas Territory

There is plenty to do in the Las Vegas Territory beyond visiting the famous Las Vegas Strip. Fremont East Entertainment District and the Las Vegas Arts District are just a few miles away from the Strip in the city. Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area is only an hour away from Vegas. Venture further afield to Boulder City for a look at Hoover Dam and Lake Mead, or to the riverside resort town of Laughlin. For a suggested itinerary, see Off the Strip in Las Vegas on pages 46-47. Also check out LVTerritory.com for information on tourism in Boulder City, Henderson, Laughlin, Jean, Primm and Mesquite.

MUST SEES!

Hoover Dam & Lake Mead

Opened in 1935, Hoover Dam in Boulder City harnesses the power of the Colorado River to generate hydroelectric power for Nevada, Arizona and California. Still considered an engineering marvel, Hoover Dam is open for tours, or can be viewed from a kayak trip on the Colorado River. Also check out Lake Mead, created when the dam was built. Access the Lake Mead National Recreation Area and Alan Bible Visitor Center from Boulder City.

Laughlin/Colorado River

About 100 miles (160 km) southeast of Las Vegas is the resort town of Laughlin on the west side of the Colorado River. Take a water taxi to visit the riverside resorts, enjoy a show at the Laughlin Events Center or check out the Colorado River Heritage Greenway Park and Trails. Outfitters offer horseback riding, watercraft rentals and more.

Mesquite

The golf mecca of Mesquite is about 82 miles (132 km) northeast of Las Vegas next to the Virgin Mountains and the border with Arizona. The city boasts six original courses, and hosts an annual World Long Drive Championship qualifying event. Mesquite also is home to Camel Safari outfitters, Skydive Mesquite and other attractions.

Mount Charleston

Officially the Spring Mountains National Recreation Area, Mount Charleston is just 35 miles (56 km) northwest of Las Vegas but a world away in terms of atmosphere. Mount Charleston offers spectacular mountain scenery and hiking opportunities. In the winter, ski the slopes at Lee Canyon ski resort. Stop at the Visitor Gateway, 2525 Kyle Canyon Road, for more information.

Spring Preserve

This 180-acre cultural institution just west of the Las Vegas Strip has museums — including the Nevada State Museum, Las Vegas — botanical gardens, galleries, an interpretive trail system and entertainment.

Indian Territory

Nevada is home to four major American Indian tribes: Wa She Shu (Washoe), Nu Mu (Northern Paiute), Newe (Western Shoshone) and Newu (Southern Paiute.) For thousands of years, their ancestors cared for and were sustained by this land. Today, these tribes are a vital, integral part of the community, and are an important voice in the Nevada story. Significant tribal lands and cultural sites are found throughout Nevada. These gems constitute Indian Territory — the entire Silver State. From the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe Museum in the north to the annual Southern Paiute Veterans Powwow in Overton, there are many ways to learn about Nevada Indian culture.

MUST SEES!

Grimes Point & Hidden Cave

See petroglyphs (ancient rock art) at Grimes Point Archaeological Area, about seven miles (11 km) east of Fallon. This site includes a short, interpretive trail past basalt rocks bearing petroglyphs made thousands of years ago. Plan your trip to include a guided tour of Hidden Cave, an archaeological site about 1.5 miles north of Grimes Point. Tours are offered on the second and fourth Saturday of the month, beginning at the Churchill County Museum in Fallon.

Lost City Museum

Artifacts belonging to the Ancestral Puebloan civilization, which lived in the American Southwest more than 1,400 years ago, are the basis of the collection at this state museum in Overton, about 64 miles (103 km) northeast of Las Vegas. The museum's programming includes ongoing archaeological research on Lost City sites.

Under One Sky

This permanent exhibit at the Nevada State Museum, Carson City tells the story of the Great Basin region from the American Indian perspective. Find out when humans first occupied the Nevada portion of the Great Basin, the natural foods they collected and the skills they used for survival.

Pyramid Lake

This desert lake within the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe Reservation, about 35 miles northeast of Reno, plays a significant role in the tribe's history and culture. Visitors can learn more at the Pyramid Lake Paiute Tribe Museum in Nixon, on the southern end of the Lake. The lake is popular for water recreation, particularly fishing, as well as bird watching. The pyramid-shaped island in the middle of the lake, Anaho Island, is one of the largest breeding colonies for the American white pelican in North America. Pyramid Lake Fisheries, where cui-ui and Lahontan cutthroat trout are bred, is in Sutcliffe, on the western side of the lake, and is open by appointment.

Toiyabe Cave

See pictographs painted thousands of years ago in this cave at the Toiyabe Cave Campground about 30 miles (48 km) southeast of Austin. Part of the Humboldt-Toiyabe National Forest, the cave was used by people between 3,000 and 1,500 years ago. These treasures are protected by a gate, but the artwork is clearly visible.

FLYING IN?

If you're flying into Reno-Tahoe International Airport, take a look at the Nevada Indian Territory exhibit on the second floor. In addition to pictures and traditional artwork created by American Indian artisans, a video on Nevada's Indian culture is displayed.

This video also is available on the Nevada's Indian Territory website, NevadaIndianTerritory.com.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Las Vegas Paiute Golf Resort, offering three 18-hole courses about 23 miles (37 km) from downtown Las Vegas, is owned and operated by the Las Vegas Paiute Tribe. World Golf Hall of Fame member Pete Dye designed the courses: Sun Mountain, challenging and scenic; Snow Mountain, the original course; and Wolf, featuring a stunning 15th-hole island green. ## NEVADA SPEAKS

To weekend wanderers and long-haul ponderers

Guardians of tradition and buckers of trends

Who stand out in crowds, or trade them for The wide-open road.

Boulevards shimmering with miles of neon

And dark skies dancing on a starlight stage

All-encompassing, one vast playground.

The road might end, but the spirit of Nevada never does.
